CHOOSE A STYLIST THAT'S RIGHT FOR YOU

Regardless of price, when choosing a supplier for your wedding day, you need to make sure they absolutely get your vibe!

WE DON'T PLONK + PLACE YOUR ITEMS

As stylists, we work together with your venue and other suppliers, to provide a stress free service in the run up to your wedding. Because not only should your day be enjoyable, but your journey also!

Although styling is our thing, we're also married ourselves. Planning our own weddings, and having lived through our past couples we have picked up on a wealth of wedding knowledge non relative to styling to help you with your day.

We can work with our couples for up to two years ahead of their biggest day, so ensuring the relationship is perfect for us both is vital in creating a seamless and stress free wedding day.

The vision you have in your head, should relay in ours. And there should never be a disconnect.

At Styled By Lulabelles, we're led by vibes and feelings. If you want a modern twist on a traditional day, with a team of highly skilled experts creating a calm ambience and making you feel like you've walked into a real life pinterest board, then we are the girls for you.

We're forever adapting our stock and services. Never getting complacent bringing you current designs and elements to the biggest day of your life

HEY, I'M ABBIE

CEO OF STYLED BY LULABELLES

Owner and CEO of Styled By Lulabelles

I created the business seven years ago, and have done just over 600 weddings and events. And I'm a firm believer weddings should be timeless, and to leave the hard core themes to parties and events.

I pride myself on being as honest and transparent as possible, keeping it real and on budget! Because no one knows more, just how expensive a wedding can be, than a twice married wedding obsessive like me!

Over the last few years, I've curated an amazing team of stylists across the UK to be able to bring your wedding vision to fruition.

I just KNEW SBL were going to be my wedding stylist from our very first phone call all back in 2020. We discussed our love for neutral tones and more importantly - Gold. I explained that I didn't want any colour at my wedding, just white flowers and hints of gold and boy did they deliver!

I never had any doubts that my wedding styling wouldn't be perfect as I knew the girls had everything under control and would make sure it was stunning, and that it was.

I changed my mind about a few things in the lead up to the big day and they were so accommodating, I felt like I was being an annoying bride but every time I text or spoke to Abbie she was just sooooo lovely and just said yes to every last minute request I had!

You guys are the DREAM team!! Our wedding would not have been the same without Styled By Lulabelles"

MRS VARTAN

"From my very first communication with Styled By Lulabelles I knew I had chosen the right team to take care of my wedding and boy how right I was!

Our wedding was a small family celebration but every single detail was meticulously executed and every guest commented from 'wow' 'classy' 'perfect' and many more!

The SBL team could not have been more kind patient and helpful, and anyone who has ever organised their wedding knows how important it is to get along with the people who are there to make your day amazing and trust me I sent a few emails as my brain was frazzled trying to sort things out and their prompt reassuring replies certainly eased my anxiety.

If you are getting married and looking for a company to give you a first class service and to take the stress out of your hands then Styled By Lulabelles is the team for you"
